

garden therapy

better living through plants

Hey there,

I've been thinking about authors. Do you know what an author wants more than anything else in the whole wide world?

To have you read their book.

If you can buy the book, great! If you can't, then borrow it from the library. And if you love it, please share it with the world. Buy copies for friends or, even better, leave a review of the book on a public site like Amazon, Goodreads, or your Library.

I've authored 7 books now (soon to be 8) and one of them even won a gold medal. An actual gold medal!

Do you know what means even more to me than that medal?

It's the feedback I get from you. What the book meant to you, in your own words.

With that in mind, I hope that you can do me a favor. If you've read one of my books, would you consider leaving a review for it? My books can be found on all major book retailers and a review where you bought it would mean a lot to me.

And because I know authors put everything onto those pages--their knowledge, creativity, heart, and soul—I love to support other authors and promote their books. I have shared over 100 articles by guest authors on a wide variety of topics. My bookshelf overfloweth with gorgeous photos, recipes, and gardening tips galore. (And so does the blog, see all our guest posts here.)

Latest from the Blog

The most recent guest post comes from Chris McLaughlin, the author of Growing Heirloom Flowers. She shared a beautiful botanical dye project that you're going to love!

Getting Back to Basics with Seed Saving

Do you collect and save the seeds from your garden? Crafty garden author, Debbie Wolfe shares why and how she saves seeds.

Great Garden Photography: Tips from Pro Stacy Bass

I'm a huge fan of author and photographer Stacy Bass and I am tickled pink that she agreed to share tips with us on how to take great garden photos.

Seasonal Goodies

Here are a whole bunch more ideas for getting garden therapy this week based on What's in Season.

- To Can or Not to Can? How to Preserve and Ripen Tomatoes
- How to Remove Suckers from Trees
- Oh, Rats! How to Solve Compost Bin Pest Problems for Good
- What the Heck is that?! Your Guide to Delicious Winter Squash
- The Complete Fall Garden Checklist
- Good Clean Fun: Melt and Pour Soap Supplies and Resources

Well, that's all for this week. Thank you for reading this email, because just like my books, a lot of love goes into each one and I hope that you enjoy them. I'm always here at the other side of the computer reading your replies, reviews, and feedback. Please, keep it coming. It really does mean the world to me to hear from you.

See you in the garden,

Stephanie Rose | Garden Therapy

Oh, and a Wee Bit of Housekeeping....

Make sure you never miss an issue by adding me (hello@gardentherapy.ca) to your email contacts.

You can read past newsletters by visiting our archives <https://gardentherapy.ca/newsletter-archives>.

Check out our Members Only Library. Use the password "LOVEGARDENTHERAPY" to gain access to over 30 freebies and check back often to see what's new.

Don't Miss This!

<https://gardentherapy.ca/>

Suite #358 2055 Commercial Drive,
Vancouver, BC V5N 0C7